

BRITAIN, FRANCE, ITALY, AND JAPAN ACCEPT U. S. PROPOSAL FOR CUT IN NAVAL ARMAMENT

ATTEMPT TO BETRAY ULSTER IS CHARGED

BELFAST, November 15.—(By the Associated Press)—U. M. Andrews, minister of labor in the Ulster cabinet, upon his return to Belfast from London, issued the following statement: "A disgraceful betrayal of Ulster has been attempted by the coalition cabinet. The suggestion has been made that we should agree to a parliament for all Ireland, with dominion powers. We have informed his majesty's government that we are not prepared to admit the ascendancy of any parliament over ours or to agree to its reserved services being transferred to a parliament for all Ireland, which undoubtedly would be controlled by those who are enemies of the empire."

"Our premier and his colleagues have pointed out to his majesty's government in the clearest possible way that any discussion based on a parliament for all Ireland must prove fruitless, and we have asked that this proposal should be withdrawn before any conference takes place between his majesty's government and the Ulster cabinet. In the interests of peace, which every right thinking person desires, we accepted a parliament of our own as a compromise and final settlement. It is for our opponents, if they desire peace, to accept and work their parliament in southern Ireland in the same spirit, with the object of producing a happy, prosperous, peaceful and loyal Ireland. The Ulster representatives will not agree to any surrender of their rights."

LONDON, November 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The next definite move in the Irish settlement negotiations is expected from Ulster.

Consultations were in progress today between Prime Minister Lloyd George and his cabinet advisers and representatives of the Unionists of southern Ireland, who object to the partitioning of Ireland into two dominions, as reported to have been proposed by Ulster.

The Ulster proposals, submitted to the British cabinet last week, were rejected by the cabinet yesterday and counter proposals made to the representatives of the Belfast government in the reply dispatched by Premier Lloyd George. The premier's reply had been delivered by noon today to all the members of the northern Irish cabinet and the making of the next move is looked for from them.

Must Be Ohio Mined Coal

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15.—Governor Davis today issued orders that hereafter all coal purchased by the state for use in its various state institutions shall be Ohio-mined coal of superior grades. The order was issued, Governor Davis declared in a statement, to secure employment to Ohio coal miners and to patronize home industries, rather than those of other states. Much of the coal heretofore used by the state has come from West Virginia.

All coal purchased by the state, the statement said, will be inspected at the mines before being shipped. Some state institutions have complained recently that they have been receiving shipments of coal of inferior grades.

Ford Plans To Revolutionize Transportation On The Ohio

(BY UNITED PRESS)
EVANSVILLE, IND., November 15.—Henry Ford plans to revolutionize transportation on the Ohio river by a fleet of new type self-propelled cargo vessels, it became known here today. The vessel line would connect with Ford's Detroit and Ironton Railroad at Ironton, Ohio, on the Ohio river, it was learned in connection with the Ohio River Valley Improvement Association meeting.

Arbuckle Appears Downcast

Missing Witness Is Found

Miss Betty Campbell, show girl, who was among the guests at Roscoe Arbuckle's Labor Day party in the St. Francis Hotel.

CHICAGO, November 15.—Miss Betty Campbell, long sought as an important witness in the "Fatty" Arbuckle case, was found today in her home here.

Miss Campbell, 20 years old, said she was a member of the party at which Virginia Rappe met her death. She denied she had attempted to hide from the San Francisco authorities.

"I do not believe that Virginia Rappe was killed by Fatty or that he had anything to do with her death," the girl said. "Here's why: I joined the party at four o'clock that afternoon. Virginia, according to the prosecution now, was supposed to have been fatally injured by Fatty two or three hours earlier. She was, at that time, lying in an adjoining room."

"I remained at the party until after 8:00 o'clock that evening. We drank, danced and played the phonograph all that time, and the party included the same people who had been there with Virginia."

"It doesn't seem possible, if Arbuckle had committed the terrible crime with which he is now charged, that the party would have continued thus, and that the same people who now are testifying against him should have remained in it."

"During the entire time I was present, I heard not a single word from anybody to indicate that there had been any trouble of any kind, except two statements from Arbuckle himself. "Once he explained that he had sent Virginia out of the party because she had become too wild and noisy."

"And later, at dinner, he said to Sonencher, 'I think you should take her out of here. I don't want to be responsible for her.'"

"Mrs. Deiment came back into the suite after Sherman left," Miss Campbell said, "and had several drinks. I heard her say nothing about Virginia."

FOCH GUEST AT PRINCETON
PRINCETON, N. J., November 15.—Marshal Ferdinand Foch today was the guest of the faculty of Princeton University, which planned to confer on him the honorary Degree of Laws. He will be the third Frenchman to be so honored by the university. French Ambassador Jusserand received the degree in 1911, and General LaFayette was similarly honored more than a century ago.

Bartle May Become Candidate
CLEVELAND—State Senator J. F. Bartle, of Elvira, in a statement said he would become a candidate for governor if no one else "sponsoring certain propositions" becomes a candidate.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., November 15.—Twelve venire members examined and five jurors accepted tentatively, one of them a woman, was the situation at the opening of the second day of the trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle here today on a manslaughter charge. Arbuckle went on trial yesterday on charges connected with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress, whose demise followed a party in Arbuckle's room at the Hotel St. Francis here last September. The five jurors so far seated, however, still are subject to peremptory challenge.

Exhaustive interrogation to which veniremen are being subjected indicates that the jury probably will not be completed before Thursday. Lack of interest in the tedious routine of picking a jury is thought to be responsible for the absence at the opening of Arbuckle's trial of the throats that sought admittance at his preliminary hearing, although all places in the court room were taken yesterday. A special police guard is on duty in anticipation of a scramble for seats when the taking of testimony is started.

The first day's session was devoid of interest except an intimation in court by Gavin McNab, chief of counsel for the defense, that District Attorney Matthew Brady had threatened to send to jail some witnesses if they refused to make certain statements. McNab added that he would produce seven witnesses to prove his assertion.

"If you do," retorted Brady, "I will resign."

Perceptibly downcast, the film comedian sat in silence while lawyers questioned prospective jurors.

U. S. NOT WILLING TO CUT SUBMARINE STRENGTH BELOW 90,000 TON QUOTA

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 15.—(By the Associated Press)—British desire to discuss the figures in the American naval replacement program as to submarines does not surprise American naval officials. It is fully expected that the Japanese also will have something to say on this point.

At the same time it may be said quite definitely that the United States is not prepared to reduce below 90,000 tons the proportion of submarines she would be allowed to maintain in the proposed restriction of fleets.

Submarines enter vitally into America's scheme of naval defense of her own great coast line.

Britain Would Bar Submarine
As insular powers, both Great Britain and Japan are exposed to submarine operations to a degree not true of the United States, officials say. There is little doubt among naval folk here that Great Britain in particular would welcome absolute prohibition of submarine warfare, or failing that, sharp limitation on the use to be made of underwater craft. That phase of the question, the writing of rules to govern employment of submarines in war, will come before the conference later as it has a definite place on the agenda with other new agencies such as air craft, air bombing raids and gas.

Submarines Good For Defense
As to the proportion of submarines to the capital ship strength of limited fleets, proposed by the United States, it may be said that the existing flotilla of submarines in the American navy is almost wholly composed of purely coast defense types. They would not be available for operation with the fleet, but would be invaluable, officials said, in keeping enemy craft at a distance from important points on the coast in the event of war. And they further offer the readiest means of keeping an enemy from setting up a MILWAUKEE, WIS., November 15.—The first legal sale of real beer here since war-time prohibition, became effective ended almost as quickly as it began and thirty-five disappointed prescription holders were waiting in line when the pharmacy sold the last bottle delivered in the first order.

A pharmacy, owned by Mrs. Edward S. Pizzok, yesterday distributed 12 1/2 gallons on the first order issued by the internal revenue department, received here. The pharmacy will be allowed to sell 87 1/2 gallons more between now and December 31, officials said.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—American naval proposals, as announced by Secretary Hughes, are prepared upon the confident assumption that the Anglo-Japanese alliance as well as all other military combinations in the far east will be eliminated.

The United States is willing to reduce the size of its navy but insists that the causes of misunderstanding which make navies necessary shall be removed.

Emphasis is placed today upon the words of Mr. Hughes' original invitation to the powers in which he says "It is quite clear that there can be no final assurance of the peace of the world in the absence of the desire for peace, and the prospect of reduced armaments is not a hopeful one unless this desire finds expression in a practical effort to remove the causes of misunderstanding and to seek ground for agreement as to principles and their application; it is the earnest wish of this government that through an interchange of views on principles at least affecting the far east, it may be possible to find a solution of Pacific and far eastern problems."

Far East Problem Must Be Settled
In other words the limitation of armament is inseparably bound in the settlement of far eastern questions. This means that before an agreement can be reached upon the one, there must be an agreement on principles at least affecting the far east. This is the crux of the conference at the moment for it seems likely that the naval proposals will be accepted and, of course, a reduction in the size of the navy of the United States would hardly be contemplated if there were immediate prospect of friction in the far east.

The Japanese delegates have carefully refrained from saying that they would accept the American proposals upon condition that a satisfactory agreement is later reached upon far eastern questions. This is truly significant for it is far more advantageous for the Japanese to see the United States committed to a smaller navy at this time than to have hold over them the lever of large armaments if they do not agree to America's suggestions on far eastern problems.

Want Main Problems Settled
Sure the United States is however not eager to see anything settled at this time except the main principles of the naval program, it is probable that nothing final will be agreed upon which is actually binding on any of the nations until all the far eastern questions have been thoroughly canvassed and there is prospect of agreement on those matters too.

The United States is saying nothing about the Anglo-Japanese alliance but is taking it for granted that Great Britain knows as must Japan realize that the American naval proposals are ineffectual unless the alliance is also wiped out. For a combination of British and Japanese naval strength would violate the principle announced by Secretary Hughes, namely, that in general "regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the powers concerned." An Anglo-Japanese combination would absolutely alter the ratio of American to Japanese seapower.

Expect Strength From Canada
There is a confidence moreover, that the Canadian strength at the conference here will be thrown into the scales on the side of eliminating the Anglo-Japanese alliance, for it is reasoned that if the United States is rid of British and Japanese naval strength, business revival here cannot but help the economic situation of Canada.

Similar the pressure for an acceptance of Mr. Hughes' proposals is coming from all parts of the world where it is hoped that an economic revival will follow the abandonment of useless expenditure for navies. Having made progress on the problem of naval armament, however, the next step is

Powers Make Reservations To Suggest Modification Of Detail Of The American Plans

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 15.—(By the Associated Press)—In union the spokesmen of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan today accepted the American proposals for limitation of naval armament in "spirit and principle," making only reservations for suggesting modifications of detail.

In order, Arthur J. Balfour, speaking for Great Britain, Baron Admiral Kato, speaking for Japan, Senator Schanzer, speaking for Italy, and M. Briand, speaking for France, rose in their places and praising in highest terms the plan and program suggested by the American government, gave the adherence of their governments to the general terms of the proposals.

Secretary Hughes thanked the representatives of the powers for their cordial expressions and declared the time had come to proceed with consideration of details of the proposed agreement. The question could now be studied, Mr. Hughes said, "with the assurance that there will come out of this conference an appropriate agreement to the end that there shall be no more offensive naval war."

Chairman Hughes declared that all had listened with gratification and profound emotion to the expressions of cordial agreement in principle with the American proposal.

"It now may be in order to consider the details," he said. "There are subjects which must be examined by naval experts and it is the desire of the American government that what was proposed and discussed by Mr. Balfour and Admiral Kato will all be thoroughly considered to the end that after careful deliberation, we may accomplish the purpose for which this conference assembled. There will come out of the conference an approved agreement for reduction of naval armaments and the end of offensive naval warfare which will work to the great and enduring peace of the world."

Mr. Hughes said if it was not the desire to continue discussion it would be in order to adjourn, adding that Premier Briand would be expected to present his views fully later on the subject of land armaments.

Premier Briand then suggested that the time for the next plenary session be left Chairman Hughes, who could determine how far the committee work was advanced. Secretary Hughes replied that he would advise the delegates of the work of the committee and asked that the committee on armaments meet today, after he could consult with the delegation heads.

Mr. Hughes also proposed that the first meeting of the committee on Pacific and Far Eastern questions be held tomorrow morning and afternoon.

The conference adjourned to Chairman Hughes' suggestion and adjourned at 12:44 o'clock in great again at his call.

Adopt "Big Five" Plan

Before leaving the statements of the delegations, the conference adopted unanimously the committee of the whole plan worked out by the big five.

Just after the opening gavel, Mr. Balfour conferred earnestly with Lord Bonty. There was no prayer.

Announcing the program decision of the big five, Secretary Hughes said, "It is the intention of this committee consisting of all plenipotentiary delegates to consider all matters and report to the plenary session."

He then announced the plan as outlined with respect to the Far Eastern question.

"May I ask if these recommendations meet the sentiments of the conference?" the chairman asked.

Heads were nodded in approval and the program was declared adopted.

Mr. Hughes took his seat, while his statement was repeated in French.

Britain Deals With Naval Questions

Availing, Mr. Balfour said in substance:

"You have invited those who desired it to continue the discussions, which began on Saturday last. I think it very unfortunate if we are to allow the events of Saturday to pass without some further observation."

"And if for reasons which I venture to explain, I am the first to take up the challenge, it is because of all members here assembled, the country which I represent is most intimately interested in all naval questions."

"Statesmen of all countries are beginning to discover that the labors and difficulties of peace are almost as arduous as those required by the conduct of a successful war."

"Now I said I'd explain why I would rise first to deal with the subject which is in all our hearts. It is because Great Britain and the British empire are more profoundly concerned with all that touches naval matters than it is possible for other nations to be."

Congratulates Hughes

"I congratulate you," said Mr. Balfour, "on the fact that you have added a new anniversary which henceforth will be observed in connection with this movement toward reconstruction. In the minds of all the allied and associated powers... November 12 will prove to be an anniversary pre-war conditions, but to see that war conditions shall never again exist."

I Count Myself Among the Fortunate

"I count myself among the fortunate among those present," said Mr. Balfour, referring to the proceedings of Saturday, and adding:

Secret Admirably Kept

"The secret was admirably kept. I hope all the secrets so long as they may be secrets, will be well kept."

Telling of how he heard Secretary Hughes' proposals, Mr. Balfour said

Managers Of 52 Railroads Call Conferences To Take Up Wage Adjustments

NEW YORK, November 15.—Managers of fifty-two railroads, covering the territory of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river, today began mailing notices to the various classes of railroad employees, calling for conference to consider readjustments in wages. In addition to the wage notice, a separate notice will advise the train service men that the managers desire to revise their working rules and agreements, particularly those dealing directly or indirectly with compensation.

Conferences with employees in all cases are expected to get under way immediately after the expiration of the thirty days' notice.

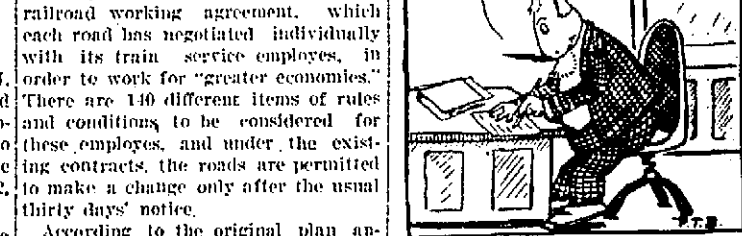

The plan is to revamp the present railroad working agreement, which each road has negotiated individually with its train service employees, in order to work for "greater economies." There are 110 different items of rules and conditions to be considered for these employees, and under the existing contracts, the roads are permitted to make a change only after the usual thirty days' notice.

According to the original plan announced by the executives, the train service employees will be asked to take a reduction in wages of ten per cent, while the shop crafts and unskilled workers pay will be cut to the going rate paid for the same class of work in other industries. At the expected refusal of the employees to accede to this program the disputed cases will be filed immediately with railway labor board, which will be asked to take early action.

The executive committee of the Association of Railway Executives will

Rev. Lindenmeyer Receives Call

It became known last night that Rev. Samuel Lindenmeyer, pastor of the First Evangelical church here, has received a call to the Union Evangelical church in Cleveland. It has a membership of over 1500 and is the largest congregation in the Synod of America. Rev. Lindenmeyer has announced to his congregation that he has received the call and has accepted it under consideration. For about eight years Rev. Lindenmeyer has been at the head of the local church and under his direction the church has grown steadily and has prospered in every way. While the local members realize that the call offers a wonderful opportunity for Rev. Lindenmeyer they are hoping that he will make a decision to remain here.

Mr. Pfau Honored At Fostoria Wins Berth On School Board

That Charles Pfau, who is the guest of friends here, stands high with the citizens of Fostoria, where he has been living for the past several years, was demonstrated in the recent election, when he was elected a member of the board of education—and his name not printed on the ballot. Mr. Pfau, who always was interested in athletics, was solicited to make the race for school board at the primaries last August, but refused to enter the field. About twelve days before the election on last Tuesday, a delegation of high school pupils waited upon Mr. Pfau and finally gained his consent to allow his name to be written on the ballot. The children of the schools got solidly behind his candidacy and despite the fact that Mr. Pfau was handicapped by the fact that the regular ballots had been printed and that those who desired to vote for him would be forced to write in his name, he was triumphantly elected, running but two votes behind the leading candidate for school board. There were 186 ballots thrown out which had Mr. Pfau's name written thereon, but the voters had neglected to put a cross in front of his name. Had these ballots been counted he would have led the highest successful candidate by 184 votes. When the result of the election became known, the school children and their parents rallied in front of Mr. Pfau's home and gave him a genuine old-fashioned send-off. "Pud" has assisted in drilling the Fostoria High School football team and is looked upon as one of the chief boosters of the northern city. He drove down to Portsmouth, Monday evening, to help make war on "Dre's Rabbit," a game in which he is skilled. Accompanied by his brother Jake, they invaded the West Side and will no doubt come back with their share of wild game. He will remain here over Sunday and take in the Tank-Smoke House football game at Millbrook Park next Sunday.

On the Same Plane. "I went into politics," said the serious woman, "so that when national topics come up I can understand what my husband is talking about." "And has your plan succeeded?" "To a certain extent. It has brought us into closer mental accord, for I find that he doesn't understand, either."

Truth About Domestic Duties. There is absolutely nothing in domestic duties themselves, or in any form of manual labor that develops the mind or elevates and broadens the character. The idea that every woman needs practical instruction in housekeeping as a part of her education is as absurd as would be the claim that every man needs to be taught in school to plant corn or milk a cow.—Mary Leal Harkness.

Make Use of Scorched Timber. The great forest fires which unfortunately occur almost every autumn leave vast quantities of "fire killed timber." This is now being used extensively for many purposes, being preferred in some cases to green timber. Fruit growers, for instance, are said to prefer it for packing boxes because it is almost odorless and does not impart an unnatural flavor to the fruit. Telephone poles and railway ties are also made to advantage from fire killed timber.

Case of Autosuggestion. A man was watching a moving picture film of a religious ceremony in Burma. There were pictures of bell players or ringers among the Burmese musicians, while the actual orchestra, with the moving picture exhibition, was composed entirely of stringed instruments. Yet this man solemnly declared he heard the bells ringing. It was autosuggestion, but through that suggestion his sense of hearing had actually informed his brain of sounds that were not—had led to him, as it were.

Falling Appetite. At breakfast in a country boarding house a girl of 12 got away with a dish of prunes, a bowl of cereal, three eggs, two muffins, three slices of bread, two glasses of milk and two cups of coffee. "Well, Mary," some one remarked, "you seem to have a good appetite." Regrettably the child answered, "Not very; 'tisn't nearly as good as it used to be."

Dr. Mickelthwait Will Hold Office Until First Of Year

It was stated Tuesday that while Dr. Gilbert R. Mickelthwait had resigned as city physician, the resignation will not become effective until the first of the new year when his successor will be named by Mayor Gableman with the approval of the Board of Health.

At a meeting of the pet stock lovers last night a reorganization of the Portsmouth Poultry and Pet Stock Association was effected when the following officers were elected:

John Fritts, president.
R. H. Barrett, secretary.
Ben Daniels, vice president.
Wm. Hazelbeck, treasurer.
Several important committees were named and if a suitable hall can be secured another pet stock show will be given this winter.

About 37 pet stock enthusiasts were present and the meeting was full of enthusiasm.

"And Man, How I Did Eat Real Food!"

LOOKING BACK, now, to those vacation days, there's a lively kindling of joy—even in the memory of appetite at camp-fire meals.

Real food—and real hunger!

That's the year-around relationship between appetite and Grape-Nuts—that crisp and wholesome gift from the great out-of-doors—the perfected goodness of Nature's best food grains.

There's a flavor and charm to Grape-Nuts that appeal to the appetite like the tang of the summer camp, and there's a scientific balance of nutrition and a readiness of digestion that make Grape-Nuts a wonderful aid to health and vigor.

"Real food!" is the verdict of enthusiastic thousands who find a daily delight in the unique sweetness and crispness of Grape-Nuts, and who "carry on" splendidly with its body-building nourishment.

Let the zest of appetite be a companion of your indoor meals, too.

Grape-Nuts is sold and served wherever good food is sold and served.

Claiming Professional Championship

The Chillicothe News Advertiser Monday said: Chillicothe has the right to claim the southern professional championship. Here's the record: The Ironton "Tanks" is considered the best team in southern Ohio. Portsmouth tied with the Tanks. Circleville declared the Portsmouth aggregation and now Chillicothe has defeated Circleville. Chillicothe expects to take the game next Sunday and play off a "rubber" with Chillicothe on neutral grounds, probably at Kingsport.

War Risk Men To Take Up Local Claims

Johnson and several men from the Government War Risk Insurance Bureau will be held at the American Legion club rooms this week to adjust claims for all Scioto, Lawrence and Adams county veterans of the World War. These representatives will take up all cases brought to their attention. All data, such as discharge papers, etc., is required by any ex-service man who sees them. Ex-soldiers from Lawrence and Adams counties will be seen on Wednesday and Thursday and Friday and Saturday will be taken up by men from Scioto county.

Buys Goods

The goods in the Style Shop on South Second street, between Center and Park avenue, Ironton, were bid in recently by Frank Wietek, who is known here.

All Major League Umps May Work In Big Series

If a major league umpire is competent enough to work year after year in the games that decide who shall meet in the world series, why isn't such an umpire competent to work in the series?

President Ban Johnson has always feared that any umpire capable of holding his job on the American league staff, is competent to work in the series. In selecting his men he has worked on that theory.

In the National League it is different. There are several umpires who have worked for years in that organization and yet have never drawn a world series assignment. On the other hand, Bill Klein, regarded as the premier official of the staff, has worked in ten series. It hardly seems fair.

A new suggestion that is meeting with favor is that all the umpires on each staff be used in the series, four of them working each day. That would give the fans a chance to look them all over and form their opinion. It would let them all share in the money, and while the amount would be cut down, it would be an annual bonus.

Doing Nicely

Miss Elsie Richter of Chillicothe street is recovering nicely from an operation she underwent several days ago for the removal of her appendix. She was taken to her home Saturday.

To Practice Law

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 15.—Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis baseball club of the American Association, has been admitted to the bar here and plans to engage in general law practice during the winter months, formerly practiced law in Chicago. He said he would not give up baseball and will lead the Indians again next summer.

Hit By Auto

Reece Bolton, West Side youth, is recovering slowly from a broken left leg he suffered several days ago when knocked down by an automobile while walking along the West Side road. An X-ray taken at the Fowler laboratory showed the big bone broken at the knee. Young Bolton is the son of George Bolton of Dry Run.

Ocean Floor Comparatively Flat

Nowhere on dry land are there such vast flat plains as occur at the bottom of the ocean. The success of the submarine telegraphic cables is due in part to the flatness of the ocean bottom. Steep slopes are rare, and it is in such places that breaks in the cable usually occur.

Third Grocery Store Robbed

Burglars entered the Smithley Grocery store, at Fourth and Vine streets, Ironton, Monday night, and escaped with several sacks of flour, canned goods and two boxes of cigars. Two grocery stores on Kemp avenue in Ironton were burglarized about two weeks ago.

Children Are Sent To Home

OAK HILL, November 15.—Leonard Dalton and E. E. Jones went to New Boston Monday, to get the children of the late Charles Jones to place them in the Knights of Pythias Home at Springfield, Ohio. Mr. Jones was a member of Oak Hill Lodge No. 708, and at his death the mother wrote the lodge asking help for her and the children. The local lodge got busy and a home provided for the little ones.

Well Just Wait Till Next Sunday

If the Tanks' line had to be crossed we are mighty glad it was Lombard and Clarke Haney, who accomplished this seemingly impossible achievement. The Tanks have taken a stand against all comers this year, their line having held like adamant since the tie game at Portsmouth last year, until young Haney, dashy end of the Lombarders, another classy eleven of Ironton players, crossed the sacred precincts guarded by the skill, bulk and beef of the Tanks.

Tax books are now open for payment of taxes in all districts outside the city of Portsmouth.

Twenty Four Years Ago

On account of the rolling of turkeys for turkeys at Henry Rind's a crowd had a big spread at Froschel's restaurant. One of the crowd was a turkey and it was decided to have a feast. All the dainties of the season were served. The following gentlemen participated: Mason Dodge, William Knapp, "Sandy" Woodrow, Henry Rind and Al Dehler.

J. P. Righish left for El Paso, Texas.

Seventy-one acres of Nile township land was sold at sheriff's sale to J. S. Dodge for $61.

Stanley Prechard, Charley Reed, Russell, Newman, Adolph Rebert and Howard Newman left for Ripley Lodge, Camp McCullough, for a several days' hunting trip.

E. L. Deputy left for Seattle, Wash., where he expected to locate permanently for the practice of law.

Two saloon men went out of business, poor trade compelling them to close their doors. They were Lou Held of West Third street, and Charles Stahl, of East Gallia street.

William Clure, of East Fourth street, the Beaver mail carrier, took a couple days off and went rabbit hunting with a friend in the vicinity of Beaver town.

In the two days they claimed to have killed one hundred and ten of the cottontails.

Richard Hinkle, 35, Ross county and Lucy Litterest, 20, Portsmouth, obtained a license to wed and John L. Spriggs, 22, Lucasville and Annette Woodhull, 25, Clifford, were granted a marriage license.

S. X. Daults moved to Lombardsville where he expected to engage in small fruit farming.

Grocers Meet Tonight

A meeting will be held this evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms by the Portsmouth Retail Grocers' Association. "Fats" will be furnished by the entertainment committee. Officers for the ensuing year will be chosen at the first meeting in December.

At its regular meeting Monday night the Page rank was conferred upon one candidate by Magnolia Lodge K. of P. and at the close of the initiation it was stated that the Esquire rank will be conferred upon a number of candidates next week. Members Wells Elliott, George Gentry and L. Yeager reported on the Doherty meeting they attended at Dayton last week.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 15.—Six members of Princeton's football team who earned their letters will be graduated in June, and ten have at least one more year of intercollegiate football ahead of them. Those to be graduated are: Keck, Laurie, Gaffney, E. Stinson, Hooper and Wirtmer.

Physicians Meet

At a meeting of the Hempstead Academy Monday afternoon in Carnegie Library, Dr. J. W. Fitch read an interesting and instructive paper on the "Use of Balm in the Treatment and Cure of Various Diseases." Discussion on this subject was conducted by Dr. James C. Martin. "The Causes of Deafness" was the subject of a paper read by Dr. George B. Brown, which led to a discussion by the twenty-five members present.

Meet Tonight

Stockholders of the Commonwealth Finance Corporation will hold a special meeting at the Mary Louise this evening at 8:15. Leroy H. Davis, special representative, is in the city and will preside at the meeting.

Police News

A. L. Anderson was taxed the usual $5 and costs under his plea of guilty by Judge Sprague in Municipal court Monday and Ballard Sparks was fined $10 and costs on his conviction of disturbing a religious meeting at the Nazarene church on Sixth street Sunday.

Clyde Whitman, charged with assault and battery upon Mrs. Nell Garrison, 625 Second street, was dismissed for lack of convincing evidence.

Letters From Our Readers

When Secretary Hughes placed his proposition of naval reduction before the Foreign representatives in Washington last week, he gave them a shock that will vibrate clear around the earth.

Few of us indeed realize its import. "One" modern battleship fully equipped for business represents an outlay of about thirty million dollars.

Let us see what this vast sum of money would do if turned into other channels.

It would build at an additional cost of fifty thousand dollars each and endow them with sufficient funds to pay all expenses twelve orphanage homes to accommodate five hundred children in each one.

Or it would buy one thousand miles of road twice as wide as the Santa Fe Trail. It would erect six thousand homes at a cost of five thousand dollars each.

It would give every man, woman and child in the City of Portsmouth three meals a day, allowing fifty cents for each meal, for nearly two years and make each one a present of ten dollars at the end of that time. The interest at 5 per cent alone from the Abusing them is another. All of us have the use of our eyes to earn our living, but the trouble is we overdo it. After the day's work is done we get out the daily paper and read and read and read often in light that is far from the best. School children, too, for hours each day are subjecting their eyes to strain by constant study. More glasses are worn than ever before, but still many more need the assistance that we have to offer.

Distinct Victory For Law And Order, Say The Drys

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15.—Characterized as a "distinct victory for law and order" by Anti-Saloon League officials, was the state supreme court's decision today keeping alive the $1,000 Dow-Aikin liquor tax and the $200 penalty without refund under the prohibition amendment.

The decision, handed down in a Jefferson county case which involved collection of the Dow-Aikin tax with the county treasurer after pleading guilty before the mayor of New Alexandria to keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were unlawfully sold.

Krueh sought to enjoin the county treasurer from collecting the money which represented Dow-Aikin tax and penalty for the period from October 20, 1919, to the fourth Monday in May, 1920. The court held that the statutory provision for collecting the tax and penalty had been repealed by the prohibition amendment. The court held otherwise.

ANNIVERSARY SALE

HISTORY OF THE STORE

On November 10, 1911, The Fashion was opened in the old Clemen's building on Gallia street by the present management.

It was a tiny room only thirty feet deep. To feel our way, the stock carried was small. However the business grew and soon the little infant store required larger quarters.

The Bannock block, a little further up the street, was then being erected. Arrangements were made for the occupancy of the west room, now occupied by Stewart's Cut Rate Drug Store.

The business continued to grow, so soon larger quarters were again required. In March, of 1915, the Herr Building, our present location, was secured. Many alterations were made to turn this room into a modern wearing apparel store.

Semi-annual-Live Model Shows give Portsmouth women the opportunity of seeing the newest modes at the start of each season. The policy of showing only one of a style has made the store many loyal friends.

WHY IT WAS NAMED THE FASHION
From the start we had in mind to give Portsmouth a FASHION SHOP not only in name but in reality. The garments shown here speak and proclaim the word of FASHION. Today this store has the enviable reputation of showing the newest and up to the minute models, created for women who know style and value.

In appreciation of your ten years of loyal support we inaugurate this sale. We pledge you real values on honest merchandise—real savings well worth your while.

George ... Sam De Grassi

Grace ... Beverly Travers

Mrs. Keely ... Edythe Chapman

Big moments crowded one upon another and tumble toward a tremendous climax in "A Wife's Awakening," the current feature attraction at the Eastland Theatre, where it will play an engagement of two more days.

Produced under the supervision of Louis J. Gasnier, for R.C. Pictures Corporation, "A Wife's Awakening" marks another stride in advance for the famous director who already has to his credit a formidable list of photoplay triumphs including such productions as "Kismet" and "Good Women," also produced for R.C. Pictures.

Mr. Gasnier has touched a lofty artistic plane in "A Wife's Awakening." Not only is the production one of high finish in a technical way but the development of the story follows the handiwork of a master. The story is one that is close to the hearts of every man and woman. It has to do with the experiences of a wife whose devotion to her husband is so great that she places her own reputation in a shadow in her efforts to save him from ruin. The husband, however, condemns her instead of thanking her for her heroic efforts in his behalf. This forms the ground work of the story and the climax comes in the form of one of the most amazing denouements ever seen on the silver screen. All is worked out in most logical and convincing fashion however.

This Letter Will Tell You How

"I suffered terribly every month, and was always tired and nervous, and had indigestion, and often could not do a thing. I was this way about two years, and had to stay home with my mother. I tried several medicines, then I found a book of yours, and mamma told me to try the Compound. So I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it certainly worked wonders with me. I have taken six bottles of it, and am still taking it when I feel the need of it. I have already recommended it to a number of working girls, who are taking it. I am working now, and stand up all day and feel fine. I am glad to say that Pinkham's medicine did a lot for me and for my mother, and we only wish we had taken it a long time before."—Rose Schoeff, 4876 Annunciation St., New Orleans, La.

This letter is but one of a great number received every year from women, young and old, and from almost every walk of life. These letters testify to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Schoeff works for her living, but on account of sickness was obliged to stay at home for two years. During this period she suffered terribly at times. She tried several medicines without finding relief. Finally she tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in this letter tells what it did for her.

The Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman. Your livelihood may depend on your health. So try Attorney and Mrs. Gilbert L. Fuller motored back to their home in Columbus Monday after a week-end visit with his father, Mr. A. Fuller of Fourth street.

Mrs. Charles Brooks and three sons, Arthur, Raymond and Ralph, of 1725 Logan street, have returned from a week-end motor trip to Sardinia, O., where they visited Mrs. Brooks' mother, Mrs. Belle Broomhall. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Frank Broomhall and son Paul of 1725 Seventeenth street.

22 Years Today

W. F. Bradford became the local representative of the John Church Co. pianos and player pianos. There are many people in the City and County to whom Mr. Bradford sold his first pianos and which pianos are yet good for 20 years or more of service. This is food for thought for those who are considering investing so much money in a player piano and taking a chance of "getting something just as good" for less money, but something that has no reputation behind it to prove it will give 22 years of service. These people are yet "boosters" for the John Church Co. goods and why not? Consider this, Mr. Piano Buyer, and come to 324 Galia St. and see these fine player pianos before taking a chance on something without such a reputation. (Advertisement)

Ladies whose circumstances commence with any of the three following letters, S, T, and W, will be hostesses at the regular monthly coffee social to be held at the First Evangelical church parlors tomorrow afternoon. An interesting program will be given in connection with the social, which will last from 2 until 6 o'clock.

The members of the Portsmouth Reading Club enjoyed an interesting meeting last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Doty of Offshore street. Mrs. Clinton M. Searl gave a review of Willa Cather's very interesting and instructive book, "The Next War." Attorney Arthur Bannan and Attorney Harry W. Miller furnished an unusual amount of interest in a debate on "Is Anglo-American Alliance Desirable?" Mr. Bannan had the negative side while Mr. Miller handled the affirmative. Guests for the evening included Mrs. H. Temple Barlow of Detroit, Michigan, guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Searl, and Miss Helen Rardin. At the close of the evening's program a light lunch was served.

Mrs. H. O. Linsley, 1311 Robinson avenue, welcomed members of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the Trinity church to her home last night. There was a large attendance, and following the usual business session, at which matters of interest to the society were discussed, a short program was given. Miss Martha Hoffman had charge of the devotionals.

Mrs. G. S. Ashenbark gave an interesting account of the Indian situation, while Miss Nettie Pray read a paper on Indian music and also rendered several Indian songs. Light refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Assistant hostesses were, Mrs. Carl Harris, Mrs. Ralph Donnellson, Misses Alice Doyle and Bertha Gemberline.

Mrs. Charles Brooks of 1725 Logan street will entertain the members of the Myotis club Thursday afternoon, instead of Wednesday, their regular meeting day.

The marriage of Miss Mary Barney, and Lewis Miller of Dogwood Ridge will be an event of tomorrow morning at St. Peter's Catholic church, Wheelersburg. The attendants will be Miss Catherine Miller, sister of the groom, and Frank Barney, brother of the bride. A breakfast at the bride's home will follow the ceremony.

The Foreign Missionary Society of Franklin Avenue M. E. church, will meet at the home of Mrs. Elmer Racy, 1218 Kinney's Lane, this evening. Assistant hostesses will be, Miss Ernestine Racy, Miss Sadie Rittner, Mrs. Albert Swearingin and Miss Laura Swearingin.

Five Quick Effects

When you brush teeth in this way

This new way of tooth brushing brings five desired effects. Some are immediate, all are quick. A ten-day test, which costs you nothing, will clearly show you what they mean to you.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this new-day method. Millions now employ it. You see the results in glistening teeth wherever people gather. Now let your own teeth show them.

You must fight film

Brushing does not save the teeth if you leave the film. That's why well-brushed teeth so often discolor and decay.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary tooth paste does not end it, so very few people have escaped its damage.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So dental science has in late years sought ways to fight that film.

Scientific methods

Efficient methods have been found. Able authorities

Pepsodent quickly proves itself. The results are unique and conspicuous. And a book we send tells what each one means.

One ingredient is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. The saliva's alkalinity is multiplied also. That to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

Pepsodent, twice daily, attacks the teeth's chief enemies.

Send the coupon for this 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

The results in ten days will amaze and delight you. Make this test now. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR CHAPTER XXVI — I RECEIVE A STRANGE LETTER

MASTERS would make Cissy a movie star as soon as his reputation promised to be permanent.

So those detailed current history as manufactured in the studios. It was really on account of Cissy's fan mail, Racy said. That proved that Cissy had a fund of popularity which the producer could bank on to pay dividends.

My own fan letters had done a good deal for me. Most of them were very welcome, some were astounding, some mysterious, and once in a while, one was terrifying.

Quite early in my career, a letter had come to me from a far corner of Brazil. Motherdear, who was my only private secretary at the time, sent the autographed photograph requested.

Next the South American wrote that he was on his way to this country—and coming just to call upon me! He appointed the time for the interview!

After that, Motherdear was most unreasonably. I had no more freedom than a convict. Never once was I allowed to go alone on the streets for months. All the men of the company were pledged to guard me at the studios. A private detective accompanied me when I went shopping.

The exorbitant South American was deported by the government, in the end. But Motherdear lost pounds while he was loose in this country.

I ceased to laugh over the situation long before it was concluded, for it certainly was unmanly to be the object of an infatuation; to be pursued and never once to have a glimpse of the pursuer.

Great interest is being evinced in the Shrine Club dance which will be a social event of the season, and which will be given tomorrow evening at the Winter Garden. The dancing will commence at 8:30 o'clock, the music to be furnished by Davidson's orchestra. H. Glen Duns and H. E. Engle, who head the entertainment committee, have completed the arrangements for the dance. The affair will be for Masons, their wives, sisters and sweethearts.

The Civics Class, under the auspices of the Woman's City Club, will have its first lesson Thursday, Nov. 17, at 1:30 p. m., at the high school room 101.

Subsequent lessons will be held on Tuesdays. Miss Margaret Flicker will instruct the class. This will be an unusual opportunity for women to inform themselves on questions of civil government. Members of the club are invited to the class without charge. Non-members will be enrolled on payments of $1.00 for four lessons. Those wishing to join the club may pay yearly fee of $1.00 and are then privileged to attend the lectures free.

Mrs. Earl Simpson of Fourth and Court street is suffering with a broken arm which she sustained in a fall at the home of Mrs. Fred Dressler of Long Meadow Sunday.

The board of trustees of the Girls' Protective Association will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Hopdale Rescue Home, 1211 Kenhall avenue.

It was almost as strange to be continually reminded of the devotion of girls and men whom I never was to meet; to receive hundreds of pounds of hosiery at holiday time, and scores of bouquets weekly.

To acknowledge these charming gifts, and to cure for the mail which increased tremendously with the release of every new picture, Motherdear had to hire an assistant secretary.

Miss Mary Bothwell was middle-aged, practical and romantic at the same time and ultra-efficient. And she certainly had an instinct for intrigue.

One day she handed Motherdear a fan letter which belonged to a series received regularly for weeks.

As Miss Bothwell threw down the letter, she exploded: "Disgraced writing! How detestable!"

Perhaps it was her instinct for plot which gave Miss Bothwell her clue to a big adventure which disturbed the monotonous life of a movie star.

When she announced, in an out-of-the-way, that a certain persistent admirer was faking his hand writing, Motherdear and I were immediately interested. But for quite different reasons, probably. I don't know what Motherdear was thinking, but I honestly hoped that Jimmy Alcott might be the man! Though certainly it was a poor role to wish onto Jimmy!

Miss Bothwell faded my drama. "It looks like," she began, then stopped abruptly. Motherdear had motioned to her, I saw the gesture in a mirror.

"Whose? Whose? Anyone we know?" I asked impulsively. "Please—let me see!"

I glanced at the letter, then cried in astonishment: "It looks like McMusters' writing!"

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—Will you kindly tell me the names of the different wedding anniversaries. Fifty years is golden wedding, 25 years, silver, but I do not know the rest. Will you please publish them tonight.

MISS IGNORANT
Since I am asked to publish these anniversaries about seven times a year, I think it would be a good idea to clip them out now. First, cotton; second, paper; third, leather; fifth, woolen; seventh, wooden; tenth, tin; twelfth, a silk and fine linen; fifteenth, crystal; twentieth, china; twenty-fifth, silver; thirtieth, pearl; fortieth, ruby; fiftieth, golden; seventy-fifth, diamond.

Dear Dolly—I am a little girl and would like to have some advice from you. The children around here tell me that there isn't any Santa Claus. Is there or not?

ESTHER
Sure, there's Santa Claus. If you don't believe me, watch for him Christmas eve.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please answer some questions for me that I am puzzled about? Is it all right for a girl to wear a ring on the third finger of her left hand if she is not engaged. Must an engagement ring be a diamond ring these days? Which little finger should a ring be worn on, right or left hand? Must such a ring have a large set?

WANT-TO-KNOW
The engagement ring is usually a diamond and always worn on the third finger of the left hand. It is proper to wear a ring on either little finger.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please give me a recipe for chicken wiggle.

Judge McCall Will Assume Duties On City Bench Tomorrow, Clerk Named

Judge-elect H. Stanley McCall arrived home Monday night from a visit to Columbus and Dayton, where he visited the Municipal courts and secured a few pointers on how these tribunals are conducted.

On his return the new judge found his commission had arrived from Columbus and he announced today that he would assume his place on the Municipal court bench Wednesday morning, succeeding Judge William R. Sprague, who has filled the position by virtue of his appointment by Governor Harry L. Davis to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Horace L. Small. Judge Sprague will take up the practice of law on his retirement.

As predicted, Sergeant Fred Shonkwiller will be the new clerk of the Municipal court.

Preparing For Sale Of Christmas Seals

COLUMBUS, November 12th.—Newspapers and other mediums of publicity are responsible in large measure for bringing the fight against tuberculosis well along the road to victory in Ohio," declared Dr. Robert G. Patterson, secretary of the Ohio Public Health Association, today in announcing names of a committee of Ohio newspaper editors who have consented to serve on a state educational committee to promote the sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals this year.

A. E. McKee, editorial writer for the Ohio State Journal, Columbus, is chairman of this committee. Other members are: Joseph Garretson, Cincinnati; Eric C. Hopwood and John T. Seek Old Age Pension Law

COLUMBUS, O., November 15.—No date has been set for the start of the circulation of petitions for an old age pension law, officials of the Ohio Federation of Labor announced today. That such petitions will be circulated was decided by the federation at its recent meeting at Hamilton. The board of directors of the federation will meet in thirty days and plans are expected to be laid at that time for the initiating of the proposed law.

Radio is used to send a crowdless vessel as far as the electric impulses will carry.

The period of "hard work" has begun for those who are endeavoring to make the annual Red Cross Roll call a complete success in Scioto county. The first rush of enthusiasm has passed, and resulted in a large number of names being added to the Red Cross list, but from now on there must be a systematic canvass of the entire community. To do this more workers must be enrolled, and Chairman Mark W. Crawford is making a final plea for at least one worker in every organization in the county. Don't hang back and wait for the other fellow to volunteer, but fall in line yourself. Send your name into the Red Cross, and then get your credentials and get busy.

Fred Prediger and Frank McCurdy of Wheelersburg met Sunday and distributed Upper Porter township territory and will secure their helpers this week to make the canvass for the Roll Call of the Red Cross in their territory.

Rev. Moore of Sciotoville called his committee Monday morning and arranged to make the drive at Sciotoville this week.

Speakers will be at the Columbia Theatre every afternoon and evening of this week.

Below are some phases of National Red Cross work:

"Chief among the sub-divisions of the appropriation for work with veterans is that which concerns itself with assistance to disabled men and women in government hospitals. This item of $1,790,000, an increase of more than $500,000 over the appropriation for the same work in last year's budget, will provide those personal services which are indispensable to supplement those provided by the government. The director of the Veterans' Bureau has recently expressed his desire that the Red Cross should continue and extend these "humanizing services." Other items of the appropriation for veterans' relief are proportionately increased. An additional appropriation of $400,000 has been made for Red Cross work in connection with regular Army and Navy hospitals, and with the regular Army and Navy.

"For disaster relief, the Red Cross has set aside for the current twelve months an appropriation of $543,976, virtually doubling the appropriation for the same purpose for the fiscal year 1920-1921.

"More than $2,000,000 is provided for service and assistance to the 3,600 Red Cross chapters by the national organization.

"Other items of the domestic budget include $493,546 for miscellaneous activities, including contributions restricted for special purposes and $768,600 for management. Each of these items represents large reductions over similar appropriations of the previous year.

"From a fund of $10,000,000, $5,000,000 of which was contributed through the European Relief Council campaign and $5,000,000 allotted by the Red Cross for child welfare work in Europe, there remains $5,765,105 still available, of which it is estimated that $5,000,000 will be required for this work during the current year. For Red Cross participation in the joint effort to relieve famine conditions in Russia, for final work in the China famine, for Junior Red Cross and other overseas activities including the closing of the old general relief program in Europe $4,975,000 is made available.

"In announcing the national budget, the Red Cross makes it clear that expenditures do not include chapter expenditures or place any cash estimate on the invaluable service of volunteers in chapters."

Rabbit Season Opens; Hunters Busy

The rabbit season opened Tuesday morning and many local nimrods took to the fields to participate in the annual assault on the cottontails. Many hunters left the city by auto and train yesterday while outgoing trains this morning carried scores of nimrods to the hunting grounds.

Up until a late hour last night the clerk of courts office was thronged with persons applying for the necessary permit from the state, and 214 licenses were issued during the day, bringing the total of licenses issued by the clerk in the past couple of weeks up to the 400 mark.

The bunnies are reported plentiful in this and adjoining counties, but with such an army in the field their ranks are sure to suffer heavy losses the next few days. The bag limit for one day is ten.

We agree to help you with Vinol or return your money.

That is what we call giving the consumer a square deal. We know that Vinol is the best body builder and strength creator for young and old—that money can buy—and we are willing to prove it to you at our risk.

We do not want anybody's money unless we can do them some good. "Value returned for value received" is our motto and always has been; upon this principle the fine reputation that Vinol enjoys has been built.

That is the reason we tell you what Vinol contains before you buy it. Would you pay $5.00 for a bag of sugar without knowing how many pounds of sugar it contained? Of course you would not.

Why then should you take chances with your precious health by taking a medicine about which you know nothing. It might contain something that would hurt you.

For 20 years Vinol has been sold in your City and hundreds of your neighbors have been restored to health by it. If you have not taken it yourself you must know someone who has—and who knows from experience that money cannot buy a better remedy for all run-down and debilitated conditions—to restore strength after sickness—to make delicate children strong and robust—and bolster up the strength of old people.

Remember what we said in the heading of this notice—

We will help you with Vinol or return your money.

Are You Squeezed in the Vise of Exhausted Nerve Force and Iron Starvation?

Physician Says These Twin Monsters Are Daily Dragging Thousands into the Torture Chambers of Ill Health, Weakening Their Lives and Making Them Financial Failures.

YOU are born with just so much nerve force and your body can manufacture only so much each twenty-four hours. If you use it up faster than it is made through overwork, late hours, worry, too much excitement, grief, nervous strain or other excesses, your nerve force becomes depleted of this life-giving fluid, and you are dragged into the torture chamber of neurasthenia, with all its nerve-racking, agonizing pains and anguish.

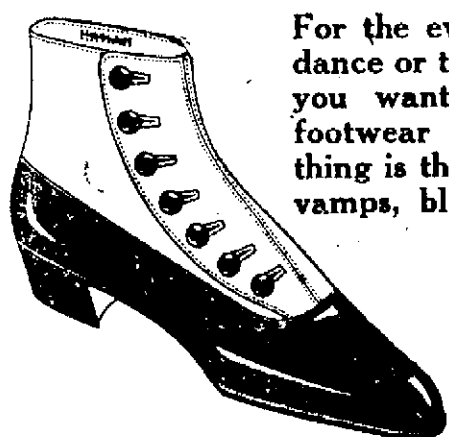

Your whole nervous system becomes "on edge," so to speak, and the least little thing upsets you. You may have an almost constant aching pain in the front or back part of the head, which in some cases gets so bad that you feel almost as if your head would burst; there may be spots of local tenderness on the spine, pains across the back, heart palpitation, great weakness from slight physical or mental exertion, or dizziness at night, and the patient often complains that his thoughts flash one another through his head with lightning-like rapidity. Some break into profuse perspiration and suffer from such great debilitating weakness that they feel as if they were almost chained to the ground. Headaches and extreme nervousness are very frequent symptoms, and most persons are moody, irritable and easily depressed.

A physician formerly connected with a New York City Hospital says thousands of persons suffer from depleted nerve force and iron starvation of the blood without ever suspecting the real cause of their trouble, and that often their health, lives and success are completely undermined and wrecked before they find out what is the matter with them. In cases of nerve force exhaustion in which your nerve and brain cells are starving for want of a sufficient supply of nerve force or nerve-vital fluid it is worse than foolish to waste your time he suddenly realized he was participating in "a great historical event."

Powers Accept

"When the blow fell and the speaker uttered the memorable words that found an echo in the civilized world it excited profound surprise. The history of world reconstruction had been worthily opened.

"Many in my audience are citizens of the United States. The United States stands solidly impregnable, with the lines of its communications protected, completely protected, from any conceivable hostile attack.

"Not Subject to Perils of British"

"It is not merely that you have 110,000,000 people; it is not that you are the wealthiest nation. The geographical position of your country makes you wholly immune from the perils to which the British empire is subjected.

"Suppose your western states were suddenly removed ten thousand miles across the sea, suppose you found that the heart of your country was a small and crowded island depending on overseas trade, depending on overseas communication for raw materials. Suppose your population never had more than seven weeks' food and that this had to be replenished from overseas.

"Then you will understand why it is that every citizen of the British empire, no matter where he lives, never can forget that it is by sea communication that he lives and that without it he can not live."

Not Lamenting Over Weakness of Britain

Mr. Balfour said he did not want the audience to suppose that he was "lamenting over the weakness of my country."

"Far from it," he explained with emphasis. "We are strong in hope and in the ardent patriotism that binds us together. But this strategic weakness, obvious to every one who reflects, is known to our enemies. Then, do not let it be forgotten by our friends.

"These inferences I have indulged in to explain why I am addressing you, those by constructive statesmanship. We have considered the great scheme laid before you by our chairman. We have considered it with admiration and approval. We agree with it in spirit and in principle. We look to it as being the basis of the greatest reform in the matter of armament and preparation for war that has ever been conceived or carried out.

Biggest Thing Ever Attempted

"I don't pretend, of course, that this or any other scheme can deal with every subject. As was most clearly explained by the secretary of state, the scheme deals, and deals only, with the three nations which own the largest fleets at present in the world. It therefore of necessity omits all consideration for the time being of the European nations who have diminished their fleets and have at present no desire, and I hope never will have a desire, to possess fleets beyond the necessities that national honor and national defense require. It does not touch the heavy burden of land armament. What it does do is one of the biggest things that has ever yet been done by constructive statesmanship. It deals with the three great fleets of the world and with the proportion of armament which it lays down for those fleets.

"Taking the battleships as a basis, we think the propositions between the various countries are acceptable. We think the limitation of amounts is reasonable. We think it should be accepted. We believe thoroughly it will be accepted."

Mr. Balfour suggested that the submarine tonnage might well be reduced and that possibly construction of large submarines should be prohibited.

Went Abolish Submarine

The suggestions for changes in the proposals Mr. Balfour said, would not affect "the main structure" proposed by the "United States, which he said, he believed, would be accepted."

When Mr. Balfour promised the "full, loyal and complete co-operation" of the British nation toward the general American plan, the audience rose and applauded for a half minute.

"At that glance," said Mr. Balfour, "our experts think that too large an amount of tonnage has been permitted for submarines. They were the most abused agency of the war. The submarine is a defensive weapon of the weak. IT MIGHT BE DESIRABLE TO ABOLISH THE SUBMARINE ALTOGETHER.

"Our experts believe that the submarine tonnage proposed is far in excess of that possessed by any nation. "I only throw this out as a suggestion—that the tonnage should be further limited. It might be practicable or desirable to forbid altogether those submarines of vast, great size which are not intended for defense, but whose whole purpose is attack and attack by methods which civilized nations abhor.

At that point the delegates and audience again applauded.

"There are other questions," Mr. Balfour continued, "of replacement of cruisers which are not required for fleet action. But those are matters for consideration by the technical experts. They don't affect the structure of the main structure which the United States desires to exist and which we desire earnestly to help.

"Now, I have little more to say, except this:

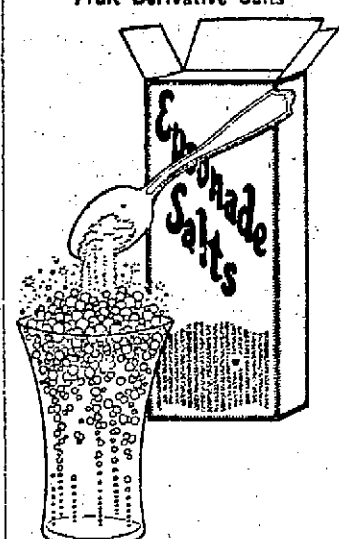

"It is easy to estimate in dollars or pounds the savings to taxpayers of each nation which adoption of this scheme would give. It is easy to show that relief will be great; that indirectly it will greatly stimulate industries, national and international, and do much to remove the difficulties under which civilized nations labor. All that is a matter of figures, but there is something beyond numerical calculations, something that goes to the root and which concerns the highest interests.

Makes Idealism Practical

"What does the scheme do? It makes idealism a practical proposition. It takes hold of the dreams of poets, of publicists, even potentates have put it before mankind as the goal to which human endeavor should aspire.

"What does the scheme do? It makes idealism a practical proposition. It takes hold of the dreams of poets, of publicists, even potentates have put it before mankind as the goal to which human endeavor should aspire.

"What makes this scheme a landmark that comes home to the dullest brain and the hardest heart is that the United States has shown that international peace, not only is a good thing, but that war is horrible, and has shown a way to make war impossible.

"In striking the imagination," Mr. Balfour said in closing, "not merely that imagination of these sitting here, but of the whole civilized world, you have made the opening of this conference one of the landmarks in human civilization."

Lloyd George Sends Approval

Mr. Balfour concluded amid profound applause after reading the following cablegram from Lloyd George:

"Government have followed proceedings at opening session of conference with profound appreciation, and wholeheartedly endorse your opinion that speeches made by President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes were bold and statesmanlike interances, pregnant with infinite possibilities. Nothing could augur better for ultimate success of conference. Please convey to both our most sincere congratulations."

Immediately after Mr. Balfour's conclusion, the official interpreter took up his repetition in French.

When the interpretation of Mr. Balfour's speech was concluded, Baron Kato, head of the Japanese, rose to make his statement. Baron Kato spoke in Japanese and kept all around the big table, guessing what he was saying.

During the delivery of his opening sentences, however, it became known that he was bespeaking Japan's acceptance of the American proposals "in principle" as laid Mr. Balfour before him.

Japan Accepts Proposals

A free translation of Admiral Kato's remarks was in substance as follows:

"With your permission I wish to present my views on this great question. I must speak frankly. Japan appreciates the sincerity of purpose of the American government for limitation of armament. She is satisfied it will relieve nations of vast expenditures and can not but make for the peace of the world.

"Japan has no desire for a fleet equal to the United States or Great Britain. Japan is ready to proceed to a sweeping reduction in naval armament, but wants to propose a few modifications in the American plan."

Japs Reply Applauded

When he said "Japan is ready to proceed with a determination for sweeping reduction in naval armament," the audience rose and applauded.

"The nations must be provided with such arms as are required for their security," the Japanese spokesman continued.

Modifications On Replacement

"This requirement must be fully weighed with consideration of this requirement. A few modifications to the proposals from the United States will be proposed, for replacement of the various classes of ships. This must be given special consideration by the naval experts and when such modifications are prepared, I believe that the American and the other delegates will consider them with the same consideration that our delegates will to theirs."

Baron Kato declared the American plan would relieve the nations of great expenditures and "can not fail to make for the peace of the world."

Italy Joins In Acceptance

Senator Schanzler, the next speaker, declared Italy warmly applauded the American plan.

"You prove at once that you mean to carry out your suggestions," he said. "We wish to express in the name of the Italian delegation our approval."

In conclusion the Italian spokesman said the details of the plans primarily were a matter for the naval experts, but added that he had confidence that the principles would bring a successful result not only for the nations in the conference, but for all those of the world.

France Agrees To Plan

Speaking for France, Premier Briand declared complete approval of what Mr. Balfour had said. He praised Secretary Hughes also for having provided the conference with the way to agreement. The French, said M. Briand, were ready to "join wholeheartedly" in whatever plan would reach the objects desired.

There was vigorous applause for the French premier, who spoke slowly and clearly in his native tongue. He voiced complete approval of Mr. Balfour's address. He urged the necessity of not proceeding with the conference without plans well laid and settled.

"Mr. Hughes," he said, "has decided that we must not look for ways of proceeding, because he had given us one. We are with him. We French will join wholeheartedly in all efforts to reach the object desired."

M. Briand praised in general terms the manner in which Great Britain

COLDS

"Pape's Cold Compound" is Quickest Relief Known

Don't stay stuffed-up. Quit blowing and sniffing! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a cold and ends all gripe misery.

The first dose opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages of head; stops nose running; relieves headache, dizziness, feverishness, sneezing. "Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Tastes nice. Contains no quinine. In fact on Pape's advertisement.

had expressed her intentions to support the American program.

Touching on France's special position, the premier added:

"What are we really debating? We are to find out if the people of the world are really desirous of putting an end once for all to the atrocities of war."

M. Briand said he would welcome an opportunity to explain France's position at an open session so that it would reach the ears of America, above all other people. He said he felt sure the difficulties and necessities of France would be realized.

"I may say that we are back of you, Mr. Secretary," he said in conclusion, addressing Mr. Hughes.

floating fleet base in nearby sheltered waters. To what extent existing American submarines could be used overseas as an offensive weapon is doubtful.

May Abandon Extensive Plans

New craft of about 2,000 tons and classed as fleet submarines are under construction. Some projected vessels of this class, however, have not been laid down and would be abandoned under the proposal. For ten years, also, plans for new submarines of several classes, based on a careful and comprehensive study of captured German craft and of all war experience with submarines could not be executed.

There have been indications that the navy department was preparing for a long step forward in these new plans, but details have never been disclosed. In any case, the navy itself shows some 94 first line submarines built, building or on order, 49 second line craft and 12 fleet submarines.

Acceptance of the American proposal for reductions would not affect more than twenty or so of the new ships and for ten years the American navy would have a heavy preponderance in underwater craft, even if Great Britain immediately took advantage of their full 50,000 allowance and built up to that figure.

Japan would be allowed to build even during the ten-year holiday up to 54,000 tons total. This would represent a considerable new tonnage for her, it is said.

to begin about something of the same spirit of regard on Far Eastern questions, which is a more difficult task. The air is filled with expectations of another formula by Mr. Hughes to be sprung on the conference laying down certain principles on the Far Eastern situation. Whether these will be laid on the table at an open session or an agreement sought, is committee is yet to be determined but the American aspiration is for these principles:

American Aspiration

First, that all alliances shall be abrogated.

Second, that spheres of influence in the far east shall be given up by all powers and the principle of the "open door" absolutely accepted with a pledge for its maintenance.

Third, that an international tribunal be constituted where pending questions as well as other vexed inter-

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK

Rub Backache Away With Small Trial Bottle of Old "St. Jacob's Oil"

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now! That's lumbago, sciatica, or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with such penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Lumber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.—Advertisement.

Don't Ride Freights, And Don't Carry Gun, Murderer's Advice

"Before leaving here I want to de- Chamblin, condemned to life in the electric chair on February 24, said this morning." Roy

"Tell them for me not to do two things, ride freight trains or carry a gun. I have done both almost all my life and look where I am today," the murderer said and tears glistened in his deep, gray eyes and he hung his head.

"Yes, for my sake and for God's sake tell them my farewell message. I wish I had never seen a freight train or a gun. I never had a chance in this world, but I'll admit I had no business being around all the time."

Roy Chamblin, who must expiate the murder of John W. Newman and Miss Louise Doyle in the electric chair on the morning of February 24 now occupies a cell in the death annex at the Ohio Penitentiary. He was delivered to the warden of the penitentiary this morning by Sheriff E. E. Ricker and N. W. Detective Andy Leslie. They left with their prisoner at 7:30 this morning and four hours later Chamblin was in the grim confines of the death chamber, there to await his execution as the extreme penalty for the killing of Newman and Miss Doyle.

Reindeer's Skin valuable.

Not only is the reindeer prized highly for its flesh, but the skins are valuable for glove-making. Tanned with the hair on, they are very light, and robes made from the soft tanned skins with the hair on are for weight probably by far the warmest covering known. These might become extremely useful as automobile robes for winter in colder parts of the country.

Theatrical

Dandy Show At Sun

"The best musical comedy company of its size ever in Portsmouth" is what the crowd said after attending the Sun Monday matinee and night. Walton's Whimsical Winners made a big hit and for the remainder of the week, big audiences are expected. The show is chock full of clean comedy, fine singing and extraordinary dances to say nothing of a well dressed chorus and the special scenery. The show is without a doubt the best at the Sun this season. The Cadillac Four (Four Cylinders of Harmony) brought down the house yesterday and had to respond to many encores. Rose and Walton are two of the best Dixie dancers on the stage. Walton Marion, the man with several voices is also making a big hit. The five part feature is "A Girl Named Mary" with Marguerite Clark starring. Change of program Wednesday and Friday. Don't miss this fine bill.

You've tried the rest, now try the best—St. Nicholas Flour.

PASTORS OF FOUR STATES UNITED IN THEIR PRAISE

Four Ministers, Though From Different Parts of the Country, Have the Same Attitude With Regard to Nerv-Worth. They Write Letters Recommending It, and These Letters Offer Indisputable Evidence.

Nerv-Worth gives real results and is a real medicine. It does not act as a mere stimulant nor depends upon alcohol stimulation to produce results. The ministers whose letters are reproduced below have tested Nerv-Worth and found that it is really a preparation of highest merit, and because they know that it gives results, they recommend it to others. Nothing could be more convincing than a group of statements from gentlemen of the cloth. Read what they say:

Rev. John T. Hickman, Salem, W. Va.

"I take pleasure in saying that as a general tonic, Nerv-Worth is the best I have ever used. I now sleep more soundly, my appetite is better and my stomach is in better condition than for years before. No one needing a tonic should fail to give Nerv-Worth a honest trial."

Rev. Mr. Jenkins, Cumberland, Md.

"I have used Nerv-Worth in my family with the result that I am willing to give this testimonial, believing it will help the suffering wherever it is possible for Nerv-Worth to reach the case." said Rev. Jenkins. "I am doing this for the good of others, and in giving this testimonial to the effectiveness of Nerv-Worth, I have not been influenced by any argument for Nerv-Worth doing what it claims. I am, in truth, as far as I can discern, speaking of the properties of Nerv-Worth."

Rev. H. Malone, Meadville, Pa.

"I was in a terribly run-down condition, had no appetite, and couldn't sleep. Sold at $1.00 per bottle and recommended by Fisher & Streich—Advertisement."

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Several of the war time favorites, which were subjected to sharp pressure yesterday as a result of the disarrangement proposals, rallied briskly at the opening of today's stock market. Cultured states and Bethlehem Steels were only fractionally higher, but Crucible Steel rose 1-1/4 points. Standard Oil of New Jersey recovered three points and Mexican Petroleum advanced 1 3/4 points, but Royal Dutch featured the heavy European oils. Famous Players, U. S. Rubber, International Paper and various metal, chemical and drug issues were firm to strong. Transcontinental led the higher trend among rails.

Relaxed money rates and the strength of foreign exchange, especially sterling, were among the helpful developments of the morning. Oils, steels, equipments and various miscellaneous issues continued their upward course. Mexican Petroleum was most unstable of the leaders. Call money opened at 5 per cent, but soon fell to 4 1/2 and private demand loans were made on a 4 per cent basis.

Speculative stocks were subjected to further impairment today. Traders resumed their attacks upon prominent industrials and miscellaneous issues.
Cotton showed relative strength. Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

The closing was irregular. Liberty bonds eased. Other domestic issues displayed firmness.

COURT HOUSE

Wife Sues for Divorce
A divorce is sought by Elizabeth McFarland, 2347 Eighth street, in an action instituted in Common Pleas court Tuesday against James McFarland, 2347 Eighth street.

Through Attorney T. C. Beatty the plaintiff complains that the defendant has failed and refused to support her properly at any time since she married him in September, 1917, and declares that he has abandoned her, without cause or reason therefor, on four different occasions, and that he is now living separate and apart from her. She further claims that McFarland has been impotent all during their married life.

Charges Cruelty; Sues for Divorce
Maggie Hester, 215 Jefferson street, charges cruelty in her suit for divorce and alimony with custody of their two minor children, instituted in Common Pleas court Tuesday against Charles Hester, whom she married Dec. 18, 1882.

In her bill of complaint filed through Attorney B. F. Kimble the plaintiff charges that in violation of his marital duties and obligations Hester upon numerous occasions and especially on May 24, 1920, and May 20, 1920, without cause or provocation, made an assault upon her, struck her in the face, beat her, besides, procured a revolver and threatened to blow her brains out, she claims. Last Sunday she says he made another assault upon her and she declares that his conduct has become so threatening and menacing that she is now driven from her home and afraid to return.

She asks for an equitable division of their property and she secured a temporary injunction restraining Hester from molesting, tormenting, interfering with or doing her personal injury and preventing him from coming about her home until the case can be heard on its merits.

Girls Dismissed
Pearl Morris, 15, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Morris, 2512 Gallia street was before the juvenile court Tuesday for alleged immoral conduct and truancy, but after hearing the testimony Judge Gilliland dismissed the complaint for lack of convincing proof.

Margaret Heid, North End girl, brought into juvenile court Tuesday for alleged truancy, was dismissed by the court.

Appellate Court Convenes

The November term of the Court of Appeals for the Fourth Judicial district convened at the Court House Tuesday morning with Judges Edwin D. Sayre and Roscoe J. Manck on the bench. Judge William H. Middleton, of Waverly, was not present as he has been detained at his home since Saturday by illness. The Pike county jurist is suffering from a severe cold but he is expected to join the court here and participate in its deliberations during the week. Harry H. Grace, of Jackson, official reporter, is here with the court.

The error case of Thomas J. Basham against Oscar Moore and others was submitted to the court this forenoon and this afternoon the court heard the evidence in the injunction suit of John W. O'Brien, Heuley, against Wesley Eaton and others, of Union township. Attorneys A. Z. Blair and T. C. Beatty for O'Brien and P. T. Moreland for defendants.

Other cases on the docket will be heard during the present term are as follows:

LIMBERS UP YOUR SORE STIFF JOINTS

WEATHER exposure and hard work bring pains and aches in muscles and joints. Have a bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy and apply freely. Penetrates without rubbing. You will find at once a comforting sense of warmth which will be followed by a relief from the soreness and stiffness of aching joints.

Also relieves rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, sprains and strains.

Malissa Wolcott against Anna M. West. Appeal. Hearing, Thursday, 9 a. m. Attorneys Miller and Seale and G. M. Osburn.

Section Craving plaintiff in error, against Mark Foster, minor, by next friend, Oscar Foster, defendant in error. Error. Attorneys Miller & Seale and A. C. Woodrow.

Walter H. Knapp and others against E. W. Smith. Appeal. Attorneys Blair and Blair and B. F. Kimble.

Wife Charges Desertion
Alleging neglect and cruelty, Martha J. Dawson, Columbus, seeks a divorce and alimony from James Dawson, Luensville, in an action instituted in the Franklin county courts Monday.

Through Attorney John F. Carlisle, Columbus, the plaintiff says they were married April 7, 1908, and then declares the defendant deserted and abandoned her and their four minor children last March, leaving them in destitute circumstances, besides, she claims, he choked her in a cruel and vicious manner on more than one occasion. The four children are now in the Scioto County Children's Home.

Suit To Set Aside Deed
Suit to set aside an alleged fraudulent deed to two lots situated in Linwood addition, Porter township, was brought by Mary J. Luther, West Fifth street, against Walter Radcliff, Sciotoville, in Common Pleas court Tuesday.

In her petition filed through Attorney T. C. Beatty the plaintiff says that last May the defendant sought to induce her to transfer to him the two lots in question and complains that he later had a deed placed on record transferring the title to him. She claims this alleged deed is fraudulent.

Marriage Licenses
Thomas A. Hottinger, 21, farmer, Peebles and Eliza A. Ward, 17, Duke Postoffice.

Frank Brooks, 28, coal miner, Thacker, W. Va., and Gertrude Burton, 22, cook, city. Both colored. Rev. William Lawhorn.

After seeing two seasoned, well drilled college teams battle for an hour it is not surprising that football is at last coming into its own.

State this season will play before 150,000 fans and their end of the receipts will reach handsome proportions.

The keen rivalry, which exists between the teams is the potent factor in elevating the game to its present high plane. There is no commercialism about a big college football team. The players have the love of their school at heart and that is why they play so hard to win.

Theatrical

Effervescent "Twin Beds"
Bubble Over With Breezy Notions.

And presented by the same matchless cast of fun-makers that have converted millions of theatre-goers with paroxysms of laughter, headed by that dainty little Broadway paragon Elaine Sun, will be the attraction for the Nov. 22, Wed. Mat. and eve. 23rd.

The roster includes, besides Miss Evans, the well-known favorites, Joseph Sterling, Joe Burton, Callie Van Vleet, Boss Stafford, Antoinette Roche and that remarkable comedian R. M. D'Angelo, whose rich, clear voice was trained by the same master that brought out Caruso. Those who are fond of music will do well to listen and hear the remarkable quality of this players' voices. See "TWIN BEDS" or live remainder of life in regret.

Play In Millbrook

Next Saturday the New Boston high school football eleven plays the All. O. high school eleven on Millbrook field. All is 17 miles north of Lebanon and has a heavy team. On Thanksgiving morning New Boston by special permission from the Southern Ohio Athletic Association will play the Smoke House Juniors on Millbrook field.

Celebrate Anniversary

One of the most interesting meetings held during this month was one held Monday evening by the Portsmouth Court Tribe of Ben Hur, when several hundred members joined in the celebration of the twenty-first anniversary.

Three charter members, Mrs. Mary Woodman, Mrs. Mary Apple and Al Fred Fresh were present on this twenty-first birthday anniversary of the local Court. At the business session, sixteen candidates were initiated. The new members given the degree work were: Mable Johnson, Dan Sisco, Margaret Murphy, Bernadine Boertel, Kathryn Luning, Myrtle Reno, Florence O'Brien, Nelson Shaw, Martha Ferguson, Emma Skiles, Richard Wagner, Arthur E. Osborn, L. J. Janetzky, Irma Callahan, Thelma Jenette and Estelle Jenette.

At the social session W. O. Towner was the first speaker. Mr. Towner, who is now at East Liverpool, gave a history of the local lodge. R. C. Howard, State Manager of Columbus, gave a memorial address, speaking of a number of members who have helped make the order a big success. He especially mentioned Thomas McLaughlin and Henry Ohio, two very active members, deceased. A letter was read from Chief Charles Spratt, who is doing special work at Spring Creek, Mich.

Dr. Walter Munsell, Supreme Leader of the local Court, Crawfordville, Ind., was the next speaker. Dr. Munsell spoke of the David W. Gore and Memorial Educational Foundation. Its purpose is to educate children. Ben Hur is a college. The Ben Hur lodge claims to be the only lodge providing such an education.

After refreshments were served Journey's orchestra furnished music for dancing until an early hour this morning.

Tavern Keeper With Degree of Doctor
Believed to be the oldest licensed tavern in the city of London, Ye Old Dr. Butler's Head in Masons avenue (Coleman street, E. C.) was reopened recently. It was founded in 1336 by William Butler, whose name is on the fanny of King James I that he bestowed on the tavern the degree of Doctor.

Fellowship Night At Second Church

All men of the Second church are invited this evening to a fellowship gathering in the church social hall. There is no set program to be followed out, but a good time is expected by all. Men, when together, need no other entertainment than what they can make for themselves. Games, that have been enjoyed by different social gatherings recently, will be played. These are rather unusual in their nature and do not border around the old "circle games" which were invented to bore rather than amuse. All members of the church and Bible class are urged to come and participate in a rousing good time.

HOLD MANSLAUGHTER CONVICTION

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15.—The Ohio supreme court today upheld the conviction of manslaughter of Harry F. Black and Ward Logan, former Akron policemen, who accidentally shot and killed David Gerber while indulging in target practice.

The court also upheld the conviction for burglary of Mike Barnich, who was sentenced in Jefferson county courts.

Back From Trip
John Reeg of the Tracy Shoe Company has returned home from a business trip to Columbus.

nent in every respect and further charges that the defendant willfully and with intent to defraud her caused her mark to be made to her signature without authority. She asks that the deed be set aside and that the defendant be required to transfer back to her title to the premises.

Tennis Is Ancient Game.
Tennis dates back to the halcyon days of Rome and Athens, but it was in the fourteenth century in France that rules were made for it. It was then known as "La Boule" and played mainly by the wealthy and the noble.

His Labor Doubled.
Kostrov, a Russian poet, labored for years translating Homer's "Iliad" into his language and the highest offer he received for it was $35, which discouraged him so much that he threw the manuscript into the fire. Afterwards when he was famous in his own country he did the job all over again.

Enjoy Banquet
The members of the Mops Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church and a number of invited friends sat down to a sumptuous banquet, served by the Ladies Aid Society of the church at 6:30 last night. There was a fine spirit of good fellowship at the meeting, that began with the serving of the supper, and was carried out in every feature on the program. Dr. S. D. Ruggles was toastmaster and started the program of short talks with a laugh. He called on every one of the fifty present to rise and introduce himself to the other fellows. Rev. D. C. Boyd and W. H. Schwartz spoke for the church and Sunday School. M. A. Coe, the teacher of the class, added a few humorous remarks in his short address. "Life Is A Funny Proposition After All," George M. Colman's view of life, when recited by Dan Wise, made a hit with the men. O. E. Riecky, superintendent of the Bigelow Sunday school, spoke of the opportunities that the organized mens' class has of doing good in the community, and the possibilities that lie before the class. Mr. Riecky paid a neat personal tribute to Maurice Coe, the teacher of the class, as a friend and a man's man.

Mrs. C. A. Hughes Hit By Auto; Skull Fractured

Mrs. C. A. Hughes, wife of Rev. C. A. Hughes, former pastor of the New Boston Methodist church, sustained a fractured skull last Friday when she was struck by an automobile and she is now in a dangerous condition at the home of her mother in Delaware, where the accident occurred. Mrs. Hughes had made the trip from her home at Lewis Center in an auto to Delaware to attend an Armistice Day celebration and was just alighting from the machine in front of her mother's home when she was hit by a passing machine. Merrill Hughes, a son, employed at the Selby shoe factory, on receiving word of the accident, left at once for his mother's bedside.

Rev. Hughes and family moved to Lewis Center from New Boston two months ago, having been assigned as pastor of the M. E. church there at the annual conference.

Plan For Encampment

Peerless, Camp No. 79, United Spanish War Veterans and Peers'ess Auxiliary No. 34 is planning to hold one of the largest encampments ever held in Portsmouth in June 1922. All patriotic organizations are urged to assist them in making this convention a success. It is not only a Spanish War Veterans' affair, but also a Peerless City convention. There will be about 2000 veterans of the war of '98 visiting here at that time. The encampment will last four days. The following committees have been appointed by Oscar J. Hundley and are asked to be present at the next regular meeting and make a report of what they have done. The committees are getting busy now, far in advance, to have everything fully arranged for the big meeting.

General Committee, Stanley Prichard, Henry H. Winters, Jacob Holsinger, Ralph Culvert, Clinton Seale, Oscar J. Hundley.

Finance Committee, George S. Carroll, Edward Zeek, Adolph G. Heintz, J. Stanley Prichard, Dan H. Thomas, J. F. Potts.

Hall Committee, Harry Mathiot, Harry W. Donaldson, Henry H. Winters, Loree Yost, John Youngman, Samuel Robb, Charles Taylor, Frederick Holtz.

Enjoy Banquet

The members of the Mops Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church and a number of invited friends sat down to a sumptuous banquet, served by the Ladies Aid Society of the church at 6:30 last night. There was a fine spirit of good fellowship at the meeting, that began with the serving of the supper, and was carried out in every feature on the program. Dr. S. D. Ruggles was toastmaster and started the program of short talks with a laugh. He called on every one of the fifty present to rise and introduce himself to the other fellows. Rev. D. C. Boyd and W. H. Schwartz spoke for the church and Sunday School. M. A. Coe, the teacher of the class, added a few humorous remarks in his short address. "Life Is A Funny Proposition After All," George M. Colman's view of life, when recited by Dan Wise, made a hit with the men. O. E. Riecky, superintendent of the Bigelow Sunday school, spoke of the opportunities that the organized mens' class has of doing good in the community, and the possibilities that lie before the class. Mr. Riecky paid a neat personal tribute to Maurice Coe, the teacher of the class, as a friend and a man's man.

The men enjoyed the evening's session immensely, and are hoping that the class will hold another like it in the near future. Those who had charge of last night's program were David E. Thomas, Earl Gannings, and Steve Marsh.

"They Satisfy"

"Four Horsemen" Beautiful Production

All the adjectives of praise with which press agents are wont to describe important theatrical productions may be applied with simple truth to "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

No detail has been overlooked. No detail was too small to be correctly incorporated into the picture. No task was too large to be surmounted in making sure that these minute details were not passed up.

The glimpse of the gay, luxurious life of Paris before the war, so faithfully portrayed in the "Four Horsemen," for a striking contrast to the bitter results of the first days of the German march to the sea.

The "Four Horsemen"—Conquest, War, Famine and Death—appear throughout the story, a grim reminder of the suffering they leave behind, and faithful portraying of the horror of war and everything connected with it.

The authentic representations of French life, which Ingram has so carefully given the picture, stamp the entire production as a wonder. The town of Villeblanche is truly a French village, with its myriads of streets flanked by the stone walls surrounding the French home.

Fred Trues, manager of the Columbia Theatre, has spared no pains or expense to make the descriptive music presented with the picture, all that it should be.

The French national anthem, as presented by Mrs. Samuel H. Timmonds at the conclusion of act one, is done with the really emotional enthusiasm of a French woman.

Artistically, the photography has not been surpassed. Its settings, cafes and drawing rooms, battlefields and trenches are realistic, astonishingly so in several instances. The brilliant cast, headed by Rudolph Valentino and Alice Terry and a number of well-known stage stars, is 100 per cent perfect. The story has been filmed almost without a false note. It is far better than any picture screened here in many moons.

The production was enthusiastically received at both performances yesterday.

Foremen Meet
One of the most interesting meetings of the year, was the one held by the Selby Superintendent and Foremen's Association Monday evening. At the usual supper hour a fried chicken supper was enjoyed in the factory restaurant. President Henry Ruggles presided, W. B. Altman and Edward "Chick" Westphal winners in the recent election were called upon for short talks. Fred Lorey, hucker of the Daylight Savings movement was called upon as a defeated candidate and he was followed by Miss Nettie Pray who was on the winning side of the Daylight Savings issue.

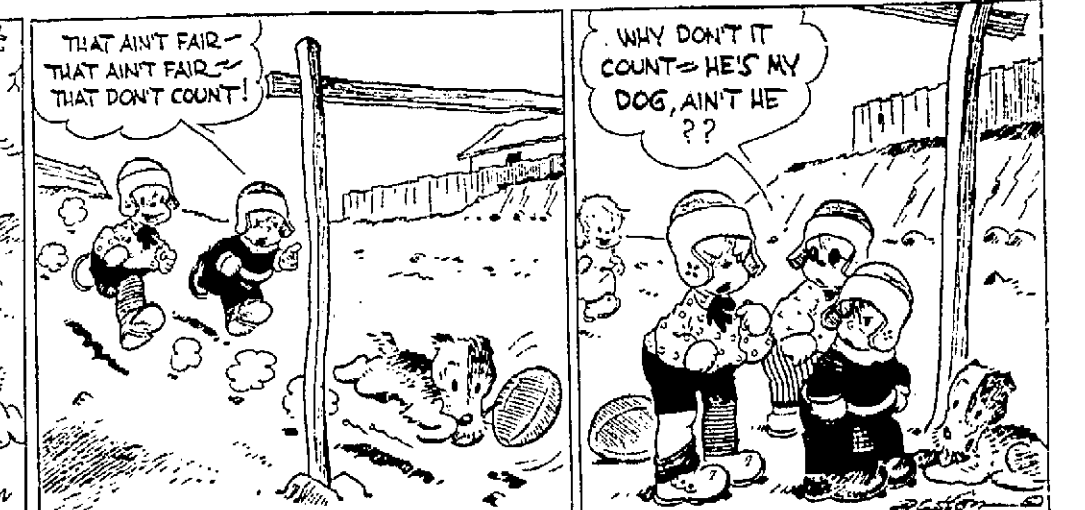

Miss Florence Peterson of the Employment Department gave a talk on her work. E. P. Fisher, of the factory restaurant made a talk on details of managing such a restaurant. Dr. O. to Apol, dentist in the factory hospital room and Mrs. H. M. Baker in charge of the hospital room and nurses department made short talks on their work. A vocal solo was rendered by Fred Lorey.

3,000 TICKETS GO ON SALE TOMORROW

The Smokehouse team will have their tickets on sale Wednesday and they expect to sell at least 3,000 as the game with the Tanks next Sunday will be worth going miles to see. In fact nothing like it has ever been staged in this city.

Last year the Blue and White and Ironton played a tie game here and the Tanks won in Ironton 14 to 7.

This year their first game was a tie. The Blue and White will be out Sunday to break the tie. Be there and help them to break it. You can win your rooting. It will be an honest-to-goodness classic.

TANKS EXPECT TO BE IN PRIME CONDITION

(Ironton Register)
The Tanks will go forward with their practice each evening rain or shine, under the direction of Coach Wietick and Trainer Scott and expect to uncover a few plays during their set on the Portsmouth gridiron. Meanwhile the defensive work will be closed up a trifle and with North, Proger and Hen Hall,avoring around in the big red back field there is no reason why any aerial attack by the Big Blue eleven should not be broken up by these speed merchants, while the local's offense will be tightened. Of course the chief reliance will be placed on the big forward wall of the Tanks, with Poole and Budell doing their best to "beat down" on the line defensive line and smash the way to a Tank victory. Both teams are hoping for a fair day for Portsmouth has unlimited faith while the Tankers believe that both Budell and Poole will be much more efficient on a dry field. That makes it munitions and the fans hope for a dry day so that they won't have to stand around in the mud on the side lines to see their hopes bludge.

Yale Picked To Beat Harvard

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The smashing, plunging, capable band of football warriors that carried the blue standard of Yale to victory over the Princeton eleven Saturday at New Haven is ranked, because of that triumph, as too strong a foe for the eleven of Harvard, which the Bulldog meets next Saturday in the last of the season's Big Three clashes. Princeton has won from Harvard and lost to Yale.

Captain Malcolm Aldrich's kicking toe was the real factor in Yale's victory over Princeton, for the two field goals that Aldrich kicked between the posts carried the Bulldog to its 12-to-7 score.

Real Practice On Tap Tonight

The Smokehouse team will practice tonight in York park. They will appear in their uniforms and will be put through several hours of stiff practice in anticipation of a grueling battle with the Tanks Sunday in Millbrook.

The boys are determined to win this game before what probably will be the largest crowd that ever saw a football game in this section.

State Wonderfully Coached Team

Ohio State is now tuning up for its last game of the season with Illinois next Saturday. There is no getting around that State has a really wonderful team this year, one that is the strongest that has ever represented that university. In Coach Wilce the team has a capable and resourceful coach, who knows the finer points of the game and knows how to execute them.

Commercial airplanes in the United States flew 3,500,000 miles in the last six months at a cost of 15 killed and 43 injured.

Ironton Fans To Have Special Train And Band When They Invade City Next Sunday

The Ironton Register Monday said: A special train for the Portsmouth Ironton football game at Portsmouth, was assured this morning by Manager Schuchleiter, who stated that he had guaranteed of fans that hundreds would take the train to the big game.

The Tanks will also be passengers on the train, as will the Elks' Band, which will give a real collegiate air to the game, as the old artists chaperoned by Leonard Hoffman lead the team upon the field, and strike up the victory march after the Tanks have crushed their opponents.

The special train will leave Ironton at 12:30 p. m., and will leave Portsmouth for the return trip at 6:00 o'clock. It will be a great old day and the inhabitants of this old ballfield will turn out in a great flock to see the first and last rounds of the terrible battle, as "Doc" Hawes would say.

A big line is assured on board the special, which will make the trip to the River City in just a little longer than an hour.

It is urged that those who desire to take passage on the special sign the lists at once as the management desires to arrange accommodations. The lists are at the Red Cross Drug Store, Smoke House and at the Elks' Lodge rooms.

Goals Kicked From A Mound

Members of the Smokehouse team who saw the Tank-Lombard game in Ironton Sunday say they were amused when the Tanks kicked them from a mound instead of a player holding the ball. Isn't it funny? And Ironton has so many paid players.

Get New Coach

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15.—Harry Dame, for three years coach of the Western Reserve university football team, today relinquished his duties to Fred Ostergren, former coach of the Bowdoin college eleven. Ostergren was selected to direct the squad for the remainder of the season by the faculty late last night after repeated requests had been made by the alumni, students and players for a change in the coaching system.

Opposition to Dame started about a year ago after Western Reserve football teams had passed through two unsuccessful seasons. This year the team has lost five of seven games. It has two more to play. Dame will continue as director of physical education.

Plestina Wins

BOISE, IDAHO, Nov. 15.—Stanislav Zhyzsko, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, will be open to a match with Martin Plestina, who last night was awarded a decision over John Pesek, of Nebraska, in a wrestling challenge. Jack Herman, manager of Zhyzsko, made this announcement when informed of Plestina's New York victory.

Herman said the only thing as far as he is concerned which has prevented a previous match is that Plestina had not yet demonstrated his superiority over Cadlock, Pesek and others near to the wrestling championship.

Wrestler Barred

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Local promoters of test night's wrestling bout between John Pesek, of Nebraska, and Martin Plestina, Serbian, have been ordered by the state athletic commission to hold the Nebraska's share of the purse. Pesek was disqualified for rough tactics and forever barred from wrestling activity in this state.

U. Of C. Crippled

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 15.—University of Cincinnati football squad today centers its practice for Miami with poor prospects so far as physical condition is concerned. The three first string centers, quarterback and fullback, are on the hospital list with the prospect of remaining there for the remainder of the season. Despite these handicaps, however, confidence reigns in the Bearcat camp that the Cincinnati team will come out of the Thanksgiving day game a winner.

Fix Centre Game

DANVILLE, KY., Nov. 15.—Centre's football team will play Harvard on October 21, 1922, one week earlier than the game was played this year. Centre officials announced today that acceptance of Harvard's invitation, received yesterday, will go forward within a short time.

In extending the invitation, Fred Moore, graduate manager, explained the advance in the date by saying "Centre and Princeton are too much for Harvard on successive Saturdays."

Playful Young Eagle

Once a young eagle was observed having a great game. It had found a stack of peat, and, lifting a sod in its claws, it flew up to a great height. It then dropped the sod and swooped down upon it at a terrific pace, catching it in its claws again. And so the game went on.

FIRST—BUT NOT ONLY

"AMERICA FIRST" is a cry that satisfies all the claims of our selfishness, individual and national, without doing violence to the rights of others or seeking to alter our relations with the rest of mankind. It is simple recognition of the biological law of self defense which is implanted so thoroughly in everything that lives.

But in "America first" there lies a danger which perhaps all who shout the slogan have not sensed. Unless we are careful and keep our individual and national minds open we may fall into that other attitude which says "America only." That would be a mistake worse than the other of making our own interests secondary to those of the common world. The first loss would be at its worst only physical. The second would be spiritual and the effects upon ourselves would be as much worse as the spiritual is exalted above the purely animal.

"America first" is an order for prudence and selective action. At its best it means that we must not neglect ourselves to advance others or to pull them out of ditches where they perhaps have no business to be. To neglect ourselves is just as bad—some say worse—than to neglect the cry of distress and plea for rescue from others. At its worst "America first" may come to mean a shutting up of ourselves within ourselves, a closing of the door between ourselves and the rest of the human family. And that in its more remote analysis would be a reversion to a lower type of mankind. And as between loss of some of our material possessions and the sacrifice in acts of generosity in whatever form extended. But we should be watchfully on our guard that it doesn't degenerate into "America only." To deny the claims of kinship strikes at the foundation of our faith in the more sublime teachings of the world's grandest religious system. That ethical guardianship might forbid even "America first" since we cannot in justice claim to be better than our brethren. But if that is allowed nothing can excuse the negligence which might lure us into the selfish position of "America only." And this is a step easily taken.

CAN MONARCHISM REVIVE?

THE Frankfurter Zeitung is prepared to risk its reputation on the prophecy that the monarchists of Germany never will make a "come back" and probably never will even make a serious attempt through militant force. Many have been questioned and, surprising as it sounds, not one was discovered who has so much as his individual opinion of what sort of monarchy would be best for Germany. This, more than any other single point, seems to have hurried the newspaper to the conclusion that the real spirit of the old monarchist group has been broken and befuddled.

From these individual conversations the Zeitung spreads an analogy to the entire royalist crowd and publicly expresses the judgment that monarchy in any form never will be re-established in Germany. Late flutings in Bavaria and the assassination of Erzberger are marked as isolated fanaticism carrying no definite meaning in a national sense.

The bobbed hair and cigaret smoking type of woman is said to have gone out of fashion in Norway, her place having been taken by the woman who takes care of her husband and makes home as perfect as possible. But it is a long way to Norway, lads, and the cost of travel is high.

There has been patented a device that cancels the stamp, prints the date, hour and place of mailing the letter and seals the envelope. If it would print in "Have been intending to write you for some little time," and "Hoping you are the same" it would be just about complete.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, November 15.—You see them in the Guy offices of theatrical agencies—these women whose faces betoken age relieved by a painted smudge of Youth. Professional death hurries breathlessly toward them day by day. Yet they cannot rout the ghosts of the past. They live over the thrill of yesteryears when all the world was a paradise of sobbing orchestra violins, thrust costume and applause.

They are what the Rialto knows as Types. They never achieve eminence and critics speak of them collectively. They are little ballet butterflies, wearers of spangled tights and chiffon who never spoke a line. The magic lure of the theatre is to them like a habit forming drug.

Many of them marry, raise families, become widows—and in the end they come back for more moments of vanished bliss, burgeoned with vain hopes and frozen dreams.

The agents rarely see them for agents seek the wine of theatrical life and not the dregs. And so these starved souls, who clutched at life and missed, sit half apologetically in the narrow rooms with faded cheeks lit with the fires of the make up box playing in a great life tragedy.

Before the cabaret died its lingering death there were jobs for some in the cafes, strolling pitifully about among well fed diners with property smiles and meaningless winks—a part of the merry-merry.

How they live is as much of a mystery as how the thousands of others on Broadway live with no income. One agent told me he has more than 400 women types on his waiting list. Some have not worked for three years, yet daily they come uncomplaining and hopeful.

Dear heroines! On this outer fringe of the theatre's glamour they close their eyes and listen for the faint beat of the drum that once called them to their spears.

Fort Lee is just Fort Lee again. This little New Jersey town a few years ago was a thriving motion picture metropolis, threatening at times to become a rival of Hollywood. Then came the movie slump—one company after another left. Now it is movieless.

Producers say this is a season for musical comedies. Last year it was a season of mystery plays. Nearly all of the successes just now are of the musical comedy type. "Blossom Time" is the latest to creep into popularity. It has thrilled the old town with its melodies, the most popular of which are "Song of Love," "Keep It Dark" and "Let Me Awake." The music was adapted from the melodies of Franz Schubert by Sid Rombert, the pale, slim young man who used to play the piano at the Beaux Arts a number of years ago when it was a meeting place for the elect.

The Woman Pays Club meets weekly at the Algonquin. Its membership consists of women who write for the magazines and newspapers. Each meeting day there is a luncheon and two men are invited. The poor clubs are usually speechless with fright with so many brilliant and charming women around. The other day two magazine editors were the honor guests. One was called upon to make a speech. He stood up, said "Horridly" and sat down suffused with blushes. The other was then called upon. He said "Ditto" and according to ring-side spectators sank back into his chair in a half swoon. He had just been counting up guests and found that ten of them had had stories rejected by him.

A Useful Elastic Skeleton

The sponge is a marine animal of fleshylike appearance covered with a firm skin in which apertures appear and disappear seemingly at will, says a sponge diver in an English paper. Cut open with a knife the animal looks like a hunk of raw meat intersected with many cavities and canals, all full of a sticky brownish fluid called "milk." This milk is the life of the creature and must be immediately removed when it is brought to the surface of the sea. Otherwise putrefaction sets in and destroys the natural elasticity of the skeleton, which is the characteristic which makes the sponge useful to mankind.

When the sponge has been killed and its skeleton cleared, it is cut up into convenient sizes and bleached to a lemon-yellow color. Then the skeletons are thoroughly dried and ready for packing and shipment to all parts of the world.

Sponge growing is carried on by "sea farmers" off the coast of Florida, reaching a size suitable for commercial purposes in two years, but a full grown bath sponge lives ten years before it develops to a foot in diameter. Its habitat is always the bed of the ocean except a few irregular patches which inhabit fresh waters. Some varieties lay eggs, others do not.

The finest qualities and the largest quantities of sponges come from the portions of the Mediterranean near the Greek and Turkish islands and the coast of Asiatic Turkey, Syria and Cyprus; also along the Dardanelles to the Sea of Marmara. Sponges are entirely unsuspected by the great majority of those who find daily use for it—the elastic skeleton of an animal.

A New Evolution in Industry

A vast expansion of American industry through harmonious co-operation of capital and labor, is predicted by Charles M. Schwab through an evolution into what he calls "the individual ownership plan," already adopted in the Bethlehem works.

The vital idea is that the workman shall have a stake in the prosperity of every great industrial business, whether it be in steel, oil, transportation, mining, or manufacture of any kind by acquiring a stock interest when his off money earns it, and his loyalty to the company has been demonstrated by service. His success is necessarily dependent on the thrift of the workman, who must save enough from his earnings to pay for the stock he gets. This becomes a partner in the business and personally interested in its success.

This is an embodiment of the profit-sharing plan adopted by an Ohio firm.

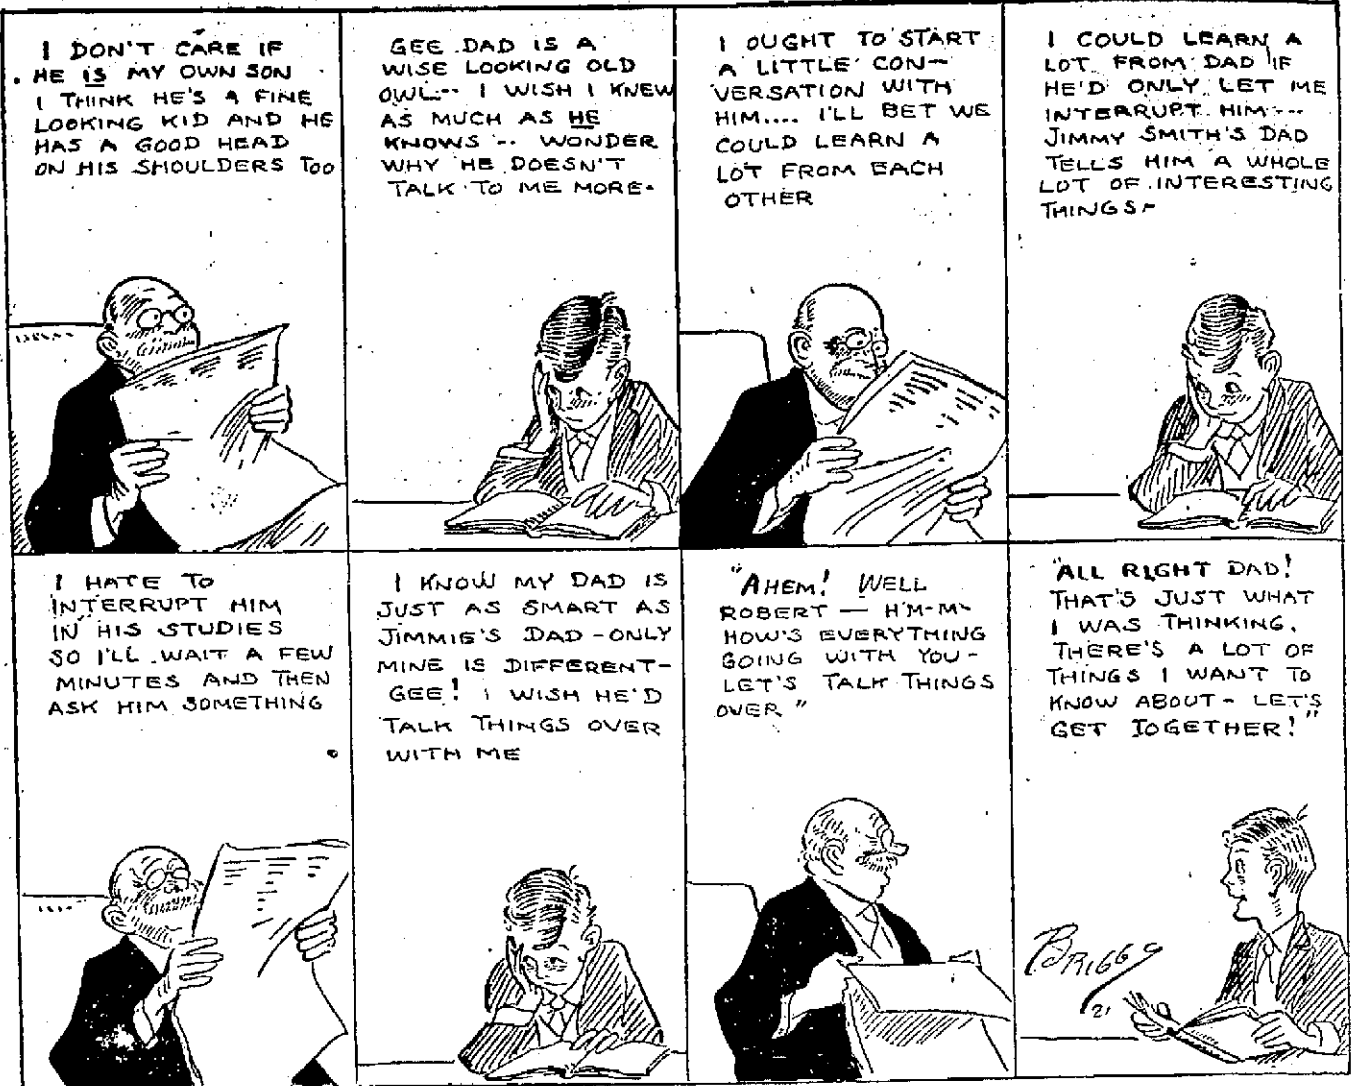

One never-failing indication of good breeding is order department in public places. The noise here is no home for culture and refinement. Rudeness always betrays those guilty of it.

The time seems to be coming when the question will not be "Is it all wool?" but "Is it new, unused wool?" when a man buys a new suit of clothes.

Helping Him Out

When visiting friends in Cleveland a young Detroit was presented with a quart of rye whiskey. He decided to take it home in his suit case.

As the steamship neared the dock he became more and more nervous. Finally in desperation he confessed his fears to a fellow voyager. This kindly individual offered to trade suit cases and assume all responsibility. The young man was vastly relieved and the change was made.

The luggage was not searched and a few minutes later the two met on shore. The young man was exceedingly grateful.

"By the way," he observed, as they exchanged again, "you must have a lot of things in your suit case. It's awfully heavy."

"Yes," said the stranger, "I have twelve quarts in mine."—Harper's Magazine.

Out Where the Wheat Begins

The night cashier overheard a peculiar conversation in Beaver Crossing the other day. A farmer was in a store buying some groceries.

"Want any flour?" asked the grocer. "No, flour's too high. I can get along without it."

After a while the grocer said: "Sold four wheat, Bill?"

"Nope; I'm going to hang onto mine; they ain't payin' nothin' for it yet."—Vancouver Providence.

Nature's Police Force.

The following excerpt from Fabre's

"The Story Book of the Field," gives a little insight into the many beneficial uses of the commoner field animals;

The bats deliver us from a host of enemies, and they are outlawed.

The mole purges the ground of vermin; the hedgehog makes war on vipers; the owl and all night birds are clever rat hunters; the adder, the toad and the lizard feed on the plunders of our crops." Thus nature supplies the husbandman with an efficient police force.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Buy an Ample Stair Carpet.

Always buy a yard more than needed, since it can be shifted up or down a little every time it is taken up, so that it wears evenly. Otherwise the part over the treads will be worn completely through, while the uprights are as good as new. The surplus can be folded under at the top or bottom. Just try it and you'll find your carpet will wear twice as long and won't begin to look very much worn till it is about gone, as it is all used alike.

BALFOUR A GREAT MAN? LOOK AT HIS COAT!

BALFOUR'S HAPPY—To be careless of his clothes, a man must be either very poor or very great. Arthur J. Balfour, who's joking with Secretary Hughes, is not poor and he certainly doesn't care a whoop how his clothes look! Look at the fit of the coat, the careless way it's buttoned and pulled awry. Picture snapped on the arrival of the British arms delegation, headed by Balfour, at Washington.

Peculiar Chinese Rice.

Ang-khak, or red rice, used in China for coloring food products, owes its color to a species of mold which is cultivated with the rice by special treatment. The red rice is refined to a fine, soft, red powder before used.

Still an Open Question.

"Doesn't your mother object to your staying out until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning?" the young lady was asked. "I don't know," the young lady replied. "She might if she knew about it, but I always beat mother in."
